

ARTIST BIO

Kvdence (pronounced "Kadence") given name Johnathon Patterson is a dynamic dancehall artist and producer whose music is as infectious as his journey is inspiring. Born in NYC and raised in Mandeville, Jamaica, kvdence's love for music began early, from playing piano in the DeCarteret College auditorium to freestyling in impromptu classroom DJ sessions with friends. What started as schoolyard clashes and freestyle vibes soon evolved into a lifelong passion for creating music.

Though he initially explored rap over YouTube beats, Kvdence's sound took a transformative turn when he returned to Jamaica from Canada in 2023 and fully embraced dancehall. His music is a reflection of his roots, blending the raw energy of Jamaican dancehall with the polished edge of modern production—all while staying true to his authentic storytelling. Which he showcases in his new single 'elephant'

For Kvdence, music isn't just a career; it's a calling. "I cannot imagine myself doing anything else with my time on this Earth," he says. Whether he's writing lyrics, crafting beats, or performing, kvdence is driven by an unshakable belief that he's exactly where he's meant to be.